

What are some areas that you can challenge yourself in?

One of your school subjects?

Being more of a giver to your friends?

A new hobby or sport?

Your listening skills?

Take set backs and disappointments better?

Being a team player at home?

Trying to be more thankful for what you have?

Working on being more positive?

After some class discussions are there some other areas we can challenge ourselves in?

